

They call me "Bones"

The discovery of the Tawa hallae dinosaur skeleton was a rare treat, for these theropod dinosaur skeletons, discovered at the NSF-supported Ghost Ranch dig site in New Mexico, were well preserved when they were found! Bones are a foundational support for all living creatures, and come in various shapes and sizes.

